Description: The founder created a 3D animated series about the Treasures of the Ancient East - legends and tales of the Great Silk Road from China to Spain.

The project started on the basis of the trilogy of fairy tale books by Founder Mahmudova Gulchekhra-begim, published in Uzbekistan, and an extended script was written for 28 episodes of 10-12 minutes each. The founder invested $300,000 to create 2 episodes.

The cartoon is exclusive with educational and entertainment content about oriental folklore, fairy tales and historical facts of the Great Silk Road and is broadcast on the ViNTERA TV platform, which is watched by 10 million users monthly in 20 countries.

The first episode of the cartoon has already been released, and in a week it collected an impressive 64 000 views.

Market Need:

The market demand for animated series based on oriental folklore is incredibly high. This is caused not only by the rapid growth in popularity of Asian culture and art, but also by the lack of adequate supply at the moment.

Oriental folklore is an endless source of fascinating plots and characters, thanks to its unique blend of mysticism, riddles and cultural traditions. Animated series about the East not only offer exciting stories, but also allow viewers to immerse themselves in the unique experience of Oriental traditions, languages and cultural features.
