Description: The Founder plans to engage in the processing and sale of precious stones such as diamonds, emeralds, sapphires, alexandrites and rubies. His project includes both export to foreign countries and sales in the local market. The author of the project plans to develop his business by collaborating with international partners and providing his jewelry not only locally, but also outside the country. His keen eye for quality and detail makes his enterprise a promising player in the gemstone industry. Taking responsibility for the entire process - from extraction to subsequent processing, the entrepreneur strives to create high-quality, unique products.
